Asbestos Risk Management
Academic and Residential Properties

OHS have undertaken Asbestos Management Consultancy and Risk Assessment work for Lincoln University across a diverse mix of academic and residential properties. This included Emergency Air Testing, Inspections, Risk Assessments and Abatement Works (in addition to a full management survey) in relation to the university site.

OHS have also been involved across the campus for monitoring, abatement works, management surveys, refurbishment surveys. Much of the work has been emergency and reactive.

OHS have also done a review of existing arrangements in relation to asbestos management and have recommended the redoing of all their policies and procedures, in addition to surveying all their property portfolio. OHS have also completed refurb surveys in advance of their proposed refurb works

Lincoln University is very proactive in their approach to property management as demonstrated by the comments of Vice Chancellor Professor Mary Stuart

'At Lincoln we believe all our students deserve the best quality courses that will equip them to be successful citizens in a globalised world. They deserve the most modern methods of teaching and learning and up to date facilities on all our campuses in Lincoln, Hull, Holbeach and Riseholme. We are working to continually improve these facilities providing a fitting home for our vision of a university rooted in traditional values but directly relevant to the questions and challenges of our age Housing Code'

Accommodation at the University Lincoln fully complies with the new standard for student accommodation
Universities UK/Guild HE Code of Practice for Management of Student Housing
